The vision statement of Campus Crusade for Christ is – to turn lost students into Christ centered laborers. Our goal is to Win students to Christ through effective evangelism, Build them up in their faith, and Send them out to be full-time laborers for Christ.

Our creative team met earlier this semester to discuss our vision for our ministry and why being creative is helping to Win, Build, and Send.

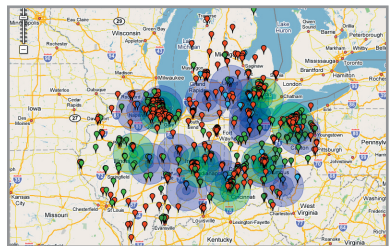

What we came up with was the basis for our team and my ministry – to Win more, Build more, and Send more. Essentially, to aid in the process and allow the staff throughout our region to Win more, Build more, and Send more.

So, what does that mean? Well, a lot of what I do is not direct ministry. If I create a website for the regional Christmas Conference, what I am doing is giving students and staff the information they need to attend that conference. I also strive to promote the conference in such a way that more students attend.

Even though I have not been directly involved in winning that particular student to Christ, building into that student's life or helping him become a future laborer for Christ,

I have made it possible for that student to come to Christmas Conference. I know that Christ meets with students in a special way at Christmas Conference every year, and if I can help more students go and they are inspired to win, build, and send, then I am a part of more of that happening.

Or by creating a tool like Crugle – our staff have been able to see where students are located throughout our region and evaluate more accurately where the needs are. You can read more about Crugle on our website www.relevantmedia.org.

My ministry is about More. To Win more, Build more and Send more. Thank you so much for your partnership in making More happen.

please Pray

- > My projects would continue to help our staff... Win more, Build more, and Send more.
- > Rachel's pregnancy would continue to go well and our baby would be healthy.
- > Our monthly support and additional financial needs would be met.

Relevant Baby

I'm the Relevant Baby. Yes, I am new to the Relevant Media team. I am still in the process of developing my creative abilities. Just wanted to say hello and let you know that I am coming. My parents are very excited and even though I do not know you yet, I wanted to echo my parents appreciation for your partnership. It benefits me too.

If you are on facebook, check out my group or check me out at www.relevantmedia.org/category/relevant-baby/.

Financial State of our Ministry
